She soon found a carpenter who was willing to make repairs if he could lark bis work on rent. Hudsh furnished the materials, and in a week the mae and his wife moved into a part of the house, so that almost from the lifts the property logan to be a paying investment. Douald begged to be allowed to paint the outside of the house. He also learned to pot on shingles, and was so much belip in making the repoirs that the term of the carpenter's service was comparatively short. At the end of the second mount the rent was cash, and it went far toward providing food for the two loappy immits of Hulesy house.

Her success prompted her to greater afforts. She found a mechanic who was out of work; and after agreed that if he would build a house on her grounds she would pay him in rent. Having a wife and child, he was glad to get shelter on these terms, eapeciably as he was at hherty to work at other jobs as soon as the house was up and inchard, being allowed to finish it when other work was not to be jerucured.

By figuring Huddah found out that the could alford to berrow money to buy or to build, as the rent was much more than the interest. So her rent oll lengthened year after year, and she galaed the desire of her leart by becoming a property owner.—Warverly Magazite.

with rnilrbads—buy dilapidated houses, put them in repair and sell at a profit or keep them and live on the rental?

After eating breakfast at her friend's house sho started out in quost of a bargain in real satate.

Every lique the passed which looked as if it wore going to decay she schimed with interest, and in some instances inquired if the praperty were for sale. In view of a possible purchaser, the price was generally raised beyond the reach of Huddah's small enpital. On the outskirts of the village stood an old house which she especially wished to possess. It was large and surrounded by about two acres of land. It seemed in the last stages of decay. The roof of the kitches liad fallen in, the fence was nearly all gone, the well-curb had rotted away, and the weeds made a widerness about the place.

"If there wasn't so much land with it," mused Huddah, "I might be able to buy it, but I do not wast to go in dela, and if the Hudsey ledra knew that I wanted lo luy it they would want a fancy price."

She weat home quite tired, and with a nuch clearessidea of what $200 would up; purchase than when she started out:

"Como here and welcone," her friend, Mrs. Ranadell, had sale, when the breaking in at the homestead had left Huddah without shelter.

"Thank you, kindly," the young woman lead responded, "it will only be for a short time, for I must get settled."

In the same household was a lad about ten years old, who did chores for his board. The chorea lasted all day long, and even the few hours after aupper which Donald wanted for sindy were hegrudged and broken. The children of the family crowded the patient little fellow away from the limp and away from the lire.

Huddah made a resolve that if ever she had a house of her own Donald should have FRANCIS L. KING, Agent for the Acolien Quartette. B WASHINGTON ST., WEYMOUTH.

Donald stood by, anxious to hear the decision.
"If he wants to go," said Mrs. Rams dell, "I have no claim on him. I just took him in out of charity, but I have enough of my own."
"Do you want to be my boy, Donald?"
"The yes," if you glease."
Huldah was not a demonstrative woman, but she kissed the eager, uplifted face. That caress made the unotherless loy her friend, willing to lay down his life in her service. In the hosy days that followed she found her boy a very efficient helper. It was Donald who wheel with a Donald who wared with all his might when the drayman brought Huldah's furniture from her old home.
"Donald, I do not want you to work so hard. I fear you will injure yourseff," remonstrated Huldah, "and I want you to bave time for study."
"I love to work for you," responded the boy. "You never scold no, and I want to see how well we can make the place look."
"It is wonderfully huprovel already. Siace you pulled up those great weeds and hurned them it looks like another place, but we need a carpenter to put a new roof on the wing of the house, and to fix the doors and windows. Then, if the house had a coat of paint, it would be quite respectable."

The Company owns over twelve thousand acres of rich copper land in Texas, opened, tested, developed and NOW BEING OPERATED. Millions of tons of copper bearing clay and marl running from five to ten per cent., and large quantities of ore carrying from fifty to seventy per cent. copper in sight. Cheaply mined and treated, favorable climate, cheap fuel, and ample water. Stated by geologists, chemists, experts and engineers to be one of the greatest and best in the world. Amount of land, quantity and quality of ore, cheapness of mining and treatment, the increasing demand and profit in producing copper considered, the Boston and Texas Copper Company possesses unequalled advantages and affords the best kind of an investment.

This Company can produce copper as cheaply as any in the world. COPPER MINING IS THE SAFEST AND MOST PROFITABLE OF ALL INDUSTRIES.

Calumet and Hecla ore averages 4 1-2 per cent. copper. It has paid $62,850,000 dividends Tamarack ore averages 3 per cent. It has paid $5,910,000 in dividends. Atlantic ore averages 85-100 of 1 per cent. It has paid $780,000 in dividends. Boston and Montana ore runs 7 per cent. It has paid $10,775,000 in dividends. Franklin ore averages 1 37-100 per cent. It has paid $1,290,000 in dividends. The Quincy ore averages 1 8-10 per cent. It has paid $11,070,000.

THE AVERAGE OF BOSTON & TEXAS ORE IS OVER 50 PER CENT., and of copper marls and clays from 5 to 10 per cent. Both the ore, marl and clav are within a few feet of the surface of the ground, so that the expense of mining and hoisting is minimized. A party of New England capitalists who have just returned from an examination of the mines in conjunction with one of the ablest mining engineers in the country, report the property to be one of the largest and best in America. and to contain inexhaustible quantities of rich copper deposits.

It is estimated that the plant now being arranged for will produce $3,000 to $5,000 per day, NET.

The Company owns over twelve thousand acres of rich copper land in Texas, opened, tested, developed and NOW BEING OPERATED. Millions of tons of copper bearing clay and marl running from five to ten per cent., and large quantities of ore carrying from fifty to seventy per cent. copper in sight. Cheaply mined and treated, favorable climate, cheap fuel, and ample water. Stated by geologists, chemists, experts and engineers to be one of the greatest and best in the world. Amount of land, quantity and quality of ore, cheapness of mining and treatment, the increasing demand and profit in producing copper considered, the Boston and Texas Copper Company possesses unequalled advantages and affords the best kind of an investment.

This Company can produce copper as cheaply as any in the world. COPPER MINING IS THE SAFEST AND MOST PROFITABLE OF ALL INDUSTRIES.

Calumet and Hecla ore averages 4 1-2 per cent. copper. It has paid $62,850,000 dividends Tamarack ore averages 3 per cent. It has paid $5,910,000 in dividends. THE AVERAGE OF BOSTON & TEXAS ORE IS OVER 50 PER CENT., and of copper marls and clays from 5 to 10 per cent Both the ore, marl and clay are within a few feet of the surface of the ground," so that the expense of mining and hoisting is minimized. A party of New England capitalists who have just returned from an examination of the mines in conjunction with one of the ablest mining engineers in the country, report the property to be one of the largest and best in America. and to contain inexhaustible quantities of rich copper deposits.

It is estimated that the plant now being arranged for will produce $3,000 to $5,000 per day, NET.

"IM M'CLURE was foreman of the Paso del Norte roumhouse. He was also the bresilwinner of a family in sich there were several mouths to till. which there were several mouths to fill. The family had cemelned in the cast when Tim started for Mexico in search of eniployment; but now that his ability and faithfulness had been rewarded by rapid promotion from fireman to engineer, and thence to foreman of the roundlinise, he was receiving a monthly supend that would enable him to establish his household goods in Pasa del Norte.

In Pass del Norte.

He had never taken kindly to elaping on the liard earth floor of a liare adole hour; nor could be eat with relich the food arrived by the immobile-faced Wah Kre, whn conducted the fashionade restaurant of the place; and he longed with the longing of a homesick schooling for the coming of the time when a well cooked supper and comfortable bed wands awar lorn at the end of a day's work.

And so wirn he converted his brat month's pay as foremen into a money order, where with his wife should defr c the expenses of the family's transportation to Paso del Norte, a thrill of anticipatory pleasure ran from the roats of his hair in the tips of his toes.

The family arrived in the course of time, bis toes.

The family arrived in the course of time, and Tim proudly headed the procession that wended its way from the depot to the adobe house he had prepared for its dominilation. He had furnished the house as luxuriously and arietically as his purse and taste would permit; but he had hern able to accemplish but little, if viewel from the stamppoint of the average American woman, and Mrs. McClure was one of these.

McClure was one of these.

Her disappointment was kern, nevertheless ale mads a brave effort to stiffe her feelings, and succeeded fairly well in doing so untd, in her inspection of the premises, she arrived in the kitchen. There, the tiny slicet-irou camps tove and the meager array of culinary vessels that met her view caused her utter collapse.

"O, Tim, Tim!" she gasped, "how evee will I get enough enoked for the children on that—that tny?"
"It ien't much of a stave," Tim admitted, stroking his chin ruefully, "but it is the lost that money wanld buy in Paso del Norte. You know, my dear, cooking stoves are little used in Mexico."
"Well, why an earth did you not order one sent out from St. Louis?" repoined Mrs. McClure.
"Such a slove as you are accustomed to McCure., "Such a slove as you are accustomed to would cost $100 to put it in the house."

"A hundred dallars!" scapped Mrs. McClure, contemptuously. "Why, Tim, you can get an elegant stove and all its furniture for only $30."

"In St. Loue, but not here," replied Tim.
"But say the stove, laid down in El Peso, Tex., just across the river, would cost out more than $40, it would cost $60 more to

"What!" gasped Mrs. Mi-Clure. "Sixty daillars in move a stove ane mile! Thu Me-Clure, have you lost your senare?"
"No, my dear, not quite, I hope," Thu replied, humbly. "But you do not seem to know that an import duty must be paid on everything brought into Mexico; and on staves the rate is about 150 per rent, of their value."

it required a lengthy esplanation of the tariff question and his most solemb assurances to persuade her that he was not just-

It was not a sense of the moral weong or amugiling that caused Tim to hesitate, far he was no nowre in the art of clandestinely introducing articles of merclandise into the cactus republic, but he knew that the entire fronter was patroled inght and day by a numerous and vigilant customs guard, past whom it would be all but impossible to smingle so cumbersome a thing as a sinve.

He finally hit upon the plan of taking the stove apart and lowering it, need by piece, rate the tank of "El Huey," the sturdy switch engine, on some occasion when it would be on the Texas aide of the river. Hut upon obtaining the dimensions of the stove Mrs. McClure wanted, he found that the larger parts would not pass in at the manhole.

He would have given up in despair had not his better halt kept the subject fresh in his mind, not only with wards, but with tha poor quality of the useals she set before him as welt.

As a last resort, he decided to confer with some of his friends—those most adept at cluding the vigilance of the customs guard. At his request the men he selected gathered to his office one morning, a conference that lasted an hour or more followed; every fare was surlingly confident when it was concluded.

"The scheme'll won, Tim, never fear," cried one of the party. "The guards thick they're geting mighty smart, and so they are; they've caught on to nearly all the old tricks, but they'll never suspect this one.
Just make a bold play and bring over the stove in broad daylight, right under their torce, and they'll never are it."

The store was all over are refund to the late.

The stove was at once ordered; and wheat arrived to El Paso the car in which it it arrived in El Paso the car in which it rune was switched, at Tim's request, to the connecting track, there to await the unloading of the stove. Along in the afternoon of that day the switch engine, with Tim atanding on the forward foot board, went accurrying across the river. It was gone hit a short toue, and when it returned it was observed by those of the gailroaders who were idding about the yard that there was something query in its appearance. Standing on the truck platform of the engine, just in front of the boiler, was a dark object that seemed to be a part of the engine; within it a line was burning fierrely, and from its slender pipe, which passed up along the engine, which passed up along the engine, to all appearances emanating from a angle chimney.

When the engine had reached the entom house track it came to a standard, and the guards, who were always awarming at that paint, gravely and connewhat perfunctorily examined it for articles uf a dutable character. They discovered nothing, in epite of the united anicker of the American who witnessed the seens, and the engine was allowed to proceed to the roundhouse, where it was received with a wild hurral by the

The Company owns over twelve thousand acres of rich copper land in Texas, opened, tested, developed and NOW BEING OPERATED. Millions of tons of copper bearing clay and marl running from five to ten per cent., and large quantities of ore carrying from fifty to seventy per cent. copper in sight. Cheaply mined and treated, favorable climate, cheap fuel, and ample water. Stated by geologists, chemists, experts and engineers to be one of the greatest and best in the world. Amount of land, quantity and quality of ore, cheapness of mining and treatment, the increasing demand and profit in producing copper considered, the Boston and Texas Copper Company possesses unequalled advantages and affords the best kind of an investment. This Company can produce copper as cheaply as any in the world.

COPPER MINING IS THE SAFEST AND MOST PROFITABLE OF ALL INDUSTRIES.

Calumet and Hecla ore averages 4 1-2 per cent. copper. It has paid $62,850,000 dividends Tamarack ore averages 3 per cent. It has paid $5,910,000 in dividends. Atlantic ore averages 85-100 of 1 per cent. It has paid $780,000 in dividends. Boston and Montana ore runs 7 per cent. It has paid $10,775,000 in dividends. Franklin ore averages 1 37-100 per cent. It has paid $1,290,000 in dividends. The Quincy ore averages 1 8-10 per cent. It has paid $11,070,000.

THE AVERAGE OF BOSTON & TEXAS ORE IS OVER 50 PER CENT.. and of copper marls and clays from 5 to 10 per cent. Both the ore, marl and clay are within a few feet of the surface of the ground, so that the expense of mining and hoisting is minimized. A party of New England capitalists who have just returned from an examination of the mines in conjunction with one of the ablest mining engineers in the country, report the property to be one of the largest and best in America, and to contain inexhaustible quantities of rich copper deposits. It is estimated that the plant now being arranged for will produce $3,000 to $5,000 per day, NET. Prospectus, engineers' reports, assays and full information will be furnished on application. Remit by check, P. O. order, draft or registered letter to Treasurer.
